

Brittany Carrington has been serving in the funeral profession for more than 15 years. She considers it a great honor to have gently guided countless grieving families through their most difficult moments. Brittany has served in funeral homes across New Mexico and Texas gaining experience in both small, family-owned firms as well as large, corporate firms. She is now a Funeral Service Instructor at Northeast Texas Community College where she shares her passion and experience with her students.

In 2016, she graduated Summa Cum Laude from New Mexico Highlands University with her BBA. She went on to obtain her Mortuary Science degree from Dallas Institute of Funeral Services. While attending the Institute, she was voted Chaplain of the Pi Sigma Eta Fraternity as well as the Psi Epsilon Class Chaplain. Upon graduation, she was the Valedictorian of her class and additionally was voted the recipient of the prestigious Bill Pierce Award by her peers. In her continued pursuit of excellence, she earned the SCI Funeral Director of the Year award in 2022 for the DFW area, as well as earning the top JD Power score in one of the largest markets in the company.

With the financial support of the L Cleveland Memorial Scholarship, Brittany earned her Master of Science in Finance in Fall of 2025 - graduating at the top of her class.

Brittany enjoys outdoor adventures and spending time with her little boy. Together, they are often found playing hide-n-seek, reading books and eating chicken nuggets.
