

Precious Melton Montgomery

As a wife, mom, and entrepreneur, Precious possesses many talents beyond her degrees and skill sets. She is the CEO of The Creator's Cloud Enterprises, LLC which is a tutoring and educational consulting business geared towards assisting students in grades Pre-K through 5th grade to thrive academically. She holds a master's degree in curriculum and instruction from Georgia Southern University, and she is a licensed educator in the states of Georgia, Florida and Alabama.

In addition to her educational experience, Precious is a licensed funeral apprentice and gospel recording artist. She has appeared on the tv show Family Feud with Steve Harvey and sang alongside various artists including Jekalyn Carr, Rance Allen, Fantasia, Maverick City Music, The Alabama Boys, and more. She's pursuing a degree and licensure in funeral service to continue the legacy that her family began many years ago and for generations after her.
