

My name is Amanda Schmidt, I am 20 years old, and I am a first generation funeral director! Originally from North Carolina, I moved up to Pennsylvania shortly after graduating high school to attend the Pittsburgh Institute of Mortuary Science. I will be graduating this September and plan to move back down to NC to work in my hometown funeral home. Following multiple experiences of grief, I decided that the best way I could help people is funeral service. Since working in a funeral home during my time at PIMS, I have found my purpose to be supporting others in their time of grief.
