

Jennifer Sheehan

Jennifer is a licensed funeral director and embalmer with over 20 years of professional experience in funeral service. She earned her Bachelor of Science in Mortuary Science from Wayne State University in 2004 and is currently pursuing her Master of Arts in Education at Michigan State University.

In 2022, a career opportunity for her husband brought their family to South Carolina, where Jennifer transitioned into higher education. She now serves as a Professor of Mortuary Science at Piedmont Technical College, proudly sharing her decades of professional experience with the next generation of funeral directors and embalmers.